It is my pleasure to announce that Rachel Davids has joined our company as of January 1 in the position of Director of Business Development for Business Protection Specialists, Inc. (BPS). Rachel comes to BPS from Duke University Health System. She has her Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Rochester in Rochester, N.Y. While living in N.Y., Rachel was a registered CPA with the state and has held several senior financial leadership positions in healthcare. She has served in internal auditing roles for Xerox and a former Big Six accounting firm. Rachel brings more than 20 years of business experience to the firm and will be responsible for marketing and client communications.

BPS provides expert security consulting to organizations that value responsive, practical solutions. The typical BPS client is not a security expert and relies upon the company's proactive counsel to properly assess threats, identify vulnerability and risk, and develop cost-effective security management and design solutions.

As independent security consultants, BPS provides objective and professional options for managing security. BPS excels in the accurate assessment of threat and risk, enabling clients to prioritize security protection efforts and prevent foreseeable criminal and terrorist attacks before they ever occur.
